

TO ADD A NEW STATE
TO THE UNION'S LISTINDIAN TERRITORY MAY BE ADMITTED.

Senator Berry Wants It Changed About and Called "Indianola"—Change in Senate Rules Asked—Proceedings in the House—Germany May Bar Out Our Cotton.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Senator Berry of Arkansas immediately after the senate convened yesterday introduced a bill to create the state of Indianola out of the present Indian territory. It provides for a complete reorganization of the Indian country. There was not a quorum present when the senate met yesterday, but as there was no demand for one business proceeded with a limited attendance. Bills were introduced by Senator Dolph, to exempt from foreign exhibits at the Portland, Ore., exposition; by Senator Hunton, to remit the fines and penalties on the naval ships Yorktown, Baltimore, Newark, and Philadelphia; by Senator Dolph, to forfeit the unearned public lands granted to railroads; by Senator McPherson, for an investigation of the merits of the plan for a unit of labor. The committee on rules yesterday decided to give to-day after the second morning hour and each day thereafter to the consideration of the railroad pooling bill, the order, however, not to interfere with appropriation bills.

Senator Quay introduced an amendment to the sugar clause in the present tariff bill striking out all the provisions except that to remove the one eighth differential on sugar. The one tenth differential against bounty exporting countries remains. Senator Quay says he wants to offer the senate an opportunity to vote directly upon the protection to the trust.

The Vice-President laid before the senate a resolution of Mr. Lodge calling on the secretary of state for information as to the execution of the two Japanese students under the protection of the United States. The resolution precipitated a warm debate. Finally Mr. Morgan stated that a meeting of the foreign relations committee would be called at once to consider this resolution if it was sent to the committee. On this assurance it was referred.

Mr. Peffer (pop., Kan.) then secured the floor for a long speech which he read from printed sheets. It referred to his resolution calling for information as to the action of the secretary of the treasury in issuing bonds and arraigned public officials for perjury and usurpation of authority.

At the close of Mr. Peffer's speech the resolution was adopted without division.

Another resolution by Mr. Peffer for information from the President as to the use of United States troops at Chicago during the recent Pullman strike brought out considerable debate on the question of its reference. The resolution was finally referred to the judiciary committee.

Mr. Vest (dem., Mo.) then addressed the senate on the need of a change of the senate rules. Much opposition was manifested to any change, and in order to terminate the random discussion Mr. Harris moved to go into executive session.

The senate went into executive session and soon after adjourned.

IN THE HOUSE.

The Railway Pooling Bill Explained by Mr. Patterson.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—In the morning hour in the house yesterday Mr. McRae (dem., Ark.) called up the bill to prevent the free use of timber on public lands and to prevent further issue of permits for cutting timber in Wyoming, New Mexico and Arizona. It was amended so as to exempt patents issued to individual settlers and passed.

Mr. Outhwaite from the committee on rules presented the special order for the consideration of the railway pooling bill each day after the morning hour until disposed of.

The object of the bill is to compel common carriers, subject to the provisions of the interstate commerce act, to enter into contracts for the division of their gross or net earnings, and to secure more expeditious and efficient enforcement of that law. Another section of the bill requires annual reports from all railroads, including answers to all questions asked by the commission, with fines for default.

Mr. Patterson (dem., Tenn.) who was in charge of the bill, explained it in an elaborate speech. He made an especial attack on some of the big shippers and manufacturers, claiming that under the present law all competition was shut out. In a single year, he said, it was estimated there were 183,000 fraudulent shippers on roads running between Chicago, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York. Under the present law the shipper and railroad agent were not punishable. This bill aimed at the punishment, not of the clerk or agent, but of the railroad company itself. Upon the conclusion of Mr. Patterson's remarks the house adjourned.

MAY SHUT OUT OUR COTTON.

German Government Sends a Commission to Study the Subject.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—It is not impossible that in the pursuit of its recently adopted policy toward America the German government may take some action hostile to our cotton interests. Consul General Max Judd reports that the German government has recently sent a commission to study the cultivation and manufacture of cotton in the United States. The prime object in view is to determine whether the cotton produced in the United States meets the needs of the German manufacturer, or whether it would be better to buy all or part of the raw cotton used in Germany elsewhere.

MISS GING'S DEATH
STILL A MYSTERYSTRANGE MURDER IN MINNE-APOLIS STILL UNSOLVED.

Police Department Cannot Lay Hands on the Murderer, and "So Far All the Suspects That Have Been Arrested Could Prove Alibis—Haywood Suspected.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 5.—The deep mystery that surrounds the identity of Catherine Ging's murderous companion in her drive Monday night is apparently as impenetrable as ever. It is certain that this companion was her murderer, but thus far there is scarcely a shadow of a clue to his identity. But one man has turned up who ever saw the murderer. This is mounted officer Getchell, and his was a fleeting glimpse of the face in the moonlight. The officer was making his rounds on Lake street near Portland avenue about 8 o'clock Monday evening. A carriage passed him in which the occupants were loudly quarreling. He glanced at the man and saw that he was thin of face and had a dark heavy mustache. More he could not see. He now claims that he looked sharply at the rig as it passed and positively identified it as the Gossman rig which Miss Ging hired and which came back to the stable empty and blood soaked. The spot where the body was found is about two miles from the spot where Getchell claims to have seen the pair, but is on a direct road thither. That is, up to date, the only actual clue to the identity of the stranger. Even by that time it is by no means certain that the couple Getchell saw was the couple in question. There is just one other clue from which something may yet be learned. This is the note Miss Ging received in the morning, and which, after reading she tore into small bits. Her waste basket is now in the hands of the police, who are making an effort to piece the various bits of paper found there together.

Apparently there are several notes. One signed "R" seems to ask her to meet a friend at St. Louis. This initial at once called to mind Frederick I. Reed of St. Louis, manager of the Golden Rule store. Reed, it is learned, was once engaged to Miss Ging and gave her a diamond engagement ring, the one which was found in a small chamois bag beside her corsage. For some reason the engagement was broken more than a year ago. Reed has a thin face and a heavy dark mustache. But he proved that he was at work in the store all the evening with his clerks. The police Tuesday sent word to Reed to come and enter the sweat box. He declined unless a warrant was issued for him. The police did not feel justified in issuing a warrant. According to the testimony of all her friends, Miss Ging had entirely broken off her connection with Reed and held no communication with him for over a year, yet she retained and cherished the ring. Thus far all search for the messenger who carried the note has been futile. An American District Telegraph boy has been found who carried a number of notes from a man at the Nicollet House, but he did not carry the note Monday. The man for whom he carried notes, and whose picture was found in Miss Ging's boudoir, was Harvey Axford, a clothing manufacturer's agent, with whom and whose wife Miss Ging was friendly. He had no trouble in convincing the police that he had nothing to do with the murder. Carl J. Warneke, another former intimate of Miss Ging's was also subjected to the sweat box process, but without result. He satisfactorily explained his former relations with the girl. He is now married. The only other suspect is Harry Hayward, the landlord, friend and creditor of the dead woman. Hayward's admissions with reference to his financial relations with the woman constitute the serious part of the case against him. His alibi is perfect and relieves him from direct connection with the crime. It is established that he was at the theater at the time the murder was committed.

EMPEROR CHEERED
BY THE LOYAL MENLIVELY INCIDENT IN THE REICHSTAG TO-DAY.

Socialists Refuse to Join in, and Great Excitement Ensued Among the Other Members—New Building Was Used for the First Time—Miscellaneous Foreign News.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—The first sitting in the new Reichstag building came to-day. The president called for three cheers for the emperor and all responded except the socialist. There was great excitement among the other members.

On the preservation of the peace of Europe the emperor said: "To my lively satisfaction my confidence in the maintenance of European peace has been further strengthened during the last few years. Faithful to the spirit of our alliances, we cultivate good and friendly relations with all the powers. During the course of the last few months two neighboring empires have been deeply stirred by grave events. Germany has sincerely joined in the sympathy which was evinced on all sides and which once more gave evidence of the solidarity of the human feeling and peaceful wishes. In the death of the emperor of Russia I deplore the loss of a friend and a tried co-operator in the works of peace."

The papers publish lengthy comments upon the emperor's speech. Even the semi-official North German Gazette, which is usually silent on such occasions, discusses the speech approvingly.

The National Zeitung, the organ of the national liberal party, praises the speech on the whole, but says it waits the details of bills to be submitted by the government to the reichstag before it expresses its final opinion.

The reactionary papers praise the speech, but regret its silence regarding agriculture.

MAY LOSE THEIR HOMES.

Defective Titles Imperil the Holdings of St. Joseph, Mich., Men.

BOSTON HARBOR, Mich., Dec. 6.—Several of St. Joseph's citizens and business men fear that they may lose their homes and village lots. When B. C. Hoyt & Son, bankers of St. Joseph and Berrien county, went out of business twenty years ago, several hundred acres of village, farm, and low land property were sold at sacrifice sale. Wallace & Barnes bid in a large tract of marsh land at $65, and now it is worth fifty times that sum. It is found that a flaw in the transfer papers will revert the ownership to Hoyt & Son. Many citizens are making offers to the old bankers of various sums of money to give quit claim deeds to their homes. The Vandalla railway company and the Big Four company have improved much of the land with their property. The matter will be carried to the Supreme court.

Field Marshal Yamagata adds that measures have been taken to clear the country around Kwan Tien and Saibashu. The detachments under Gen. Tachimi and Col. Nissynia have reached their destinations after meeting with slight resistance. They attacked the enemy at Saikabo Nov. 13 and compelled the Chinese troops to retire. The two detachments are now returning to Antong.

FAVOR THE STRIKE BILL.

Many Members of Congress Think the Measure Will Become Law.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Labor Commissioner Wright will have a conference to-day with Chairman McGann of the house committee on labor, Representative Springer, author of the pending arbitration bill and Representative Erdman, who wrote the favorable report on the bill. They will go over the question of arbitration of strikes, with a view to outlining a program for immediate action in congress. Mr. Wright's experience in the presidential commission which recently investigated the Pullman strike is depended on to give practical form to plan of national arbitration. It has been urged theoretically, but the report of the commission, based on inquiry and experience, recommends federal arbitration as the surest remedy against labor agitations and strikes. It had been hoped that President Cleveland would in his message give specific approval to the plan of arbitration recommended by the strike commission, but he confined himself to an approval of the work of the commission.

LOOKED FOR BLOOD AND GOT A BULLET

SULLIVAN POUNDED TWICE AND SHOT ONCE.

Life in the Bower City Was Growing Too Dull, and He Rolled Up His Sleeves and Started In to Make a Diversion—The German Downed Him.

It was a short night but a lively one for Jerry Sullivan.

First he climbed into a Concordia hall dance by means of the fire escape and was thrown down two flights of stairs.

Half an hour later he found a vacancy in a free-for-all fight and was pounded pretty nearly into a jelly.

He pulled himself together after the crowd left, decided that Janesville was again becoming too slow, and punched at an inoffensive German. The German went up against George McWilliam's popcorn stand as it hit with a paving block. Sullivan started toward him for another round. The German staggered back, reached into his pocket, and a moment later the men across the street heard a sharp report and saw Sullivan fall on the crosswalk.

That ended the fight.

Without waiting to see whether his man was dead the German ran down River street and up the alley between Beneke's and Ennis' saloons and was lost to view. The crowd scattered, and Sullivan was left to the care of the firemen, who heard the shot and ran out of the west side station.

The Ball Was Not Found.

William Scott picked up the injured man and found that a stream of blood was pouring from his nose. As soon as possible he was taken to Dr. Joe Whiting's office, and an examination made. The bullet, a small one, had entered the right nostril and lodged in the head. Sullivan bled profusely, and complained of pain near the left ear. Dr. Whiting did not probe for the ball, deciding that it was better to wait. About 4 o'clock the wounded man was taken to "Prairie Jack" Sullivan's home on Chestnut street.

Dr. Whiting probed for the ball this morning as soon as the hemorrhage stopped enough to make an exploration prudent. He found the bullet had entered at the right angle of the nose, had crossed the face, struck the bony wall at the back of the left ear and glanced downward. Following the course it did there was a chance that the bullet might be bedded as far away as the shoulder, and search was deferred. Sullivan is now in a fair way to recover unless something unexpected intervenes.

Sullivan lives in Harmony. He was around most of the evening with John Mooney, also of Harmony, but Mooney disappeared after the shooting. It was twenty minutes after twelve when the manager of the Silver Leaf benefit ball put the agile Harmony man out and gave him over to Officer Smith. Smith told him to keep away from the dance and go home, but Sullivan hadn't had excitement enough to make the evening seem complete.

"I was looking for trouble and got it," he said after he was shot. "I am in big luck to be alive."

Shooter Was Arrested

A few moments investigation by Officer Hogan developed the fact that the man who did the shooting was Engelbert Chaumbargar, a hired man working on the John Little farm. Chaumbargar had been visiting friends in Jefferson and returned last evening to attend the benefit dance. Those who knew him declared that he was a quiet, inoffensive man. Hogan started for the Little farm before daylight and returned about 10 o'clock with his man. Chaumbargar did not deny doing the shooting.

"I had nothing against the man," he insisted, "but he came up and struck me over the eye. I backed away and he followed me. I didn't want to get another eye like that so I thought I would stop him."

Officer Hogan took him before Judge Phelps and a plea of not guilty was entered although the defendant said he was perfectly willing to tell just how everything was and let the court decide.

"There will need to be a little investigation of the matter," said Judge Phelps. "I will hold the prisoner in bonds of $200."

Max Pfennig and Herman Muellenschlafer furnished the bonds. The case will be heard December 13.

PROMISE BARS DR. ROBERTS OUT

Ante-Election Agreement Keeps Him From Being State Veterinarian.

Ad ante-election promise is all that stands in the way of Dr. E. D. Roberts' appointment as state veterinary surgeon. The Janesville man has received word from Chairman Thom that but for an agreement between Major Schofield, who withdrew from the fight for the nomination which provided that Dr. Clute, a friend of Major Schofield, should be given the office in case Major Upham was elected the office would come to Janesville. Something may yet come to nullify the agreement.

The state central committee are considering the proposition of maintaining a permanent organization from now until the campaign of 1896 opens. The proposition has some earnest supporters in the committee, while a few members regard it with less favor. Those in favor with it argue that in the long run it would result in a marked financial saving to the party, as a very large part of the important work to be done during the heat of the campaign would be completed before the campaign was really opened and at much less expense than it can be done during the rush of business, incident to active campaign work. Others are doubtful about being able to meet the necessary expense of $3,000 to $4,000 a year to successfully prosecute the work, while there is no strong incentive to induce contributions. This argument is met, however, with the statement that a number of leading republicans in the state have offered to make important contributions to a fund necessary to keep up with the organization and carry forward the work. Chairman Thom is in favor of maintaining an active organization.

The question of the speakership of the assembly, in the coming legislature is being discussed to some extent among politicians from various parts of the state. The present indications are that Mr. Burrows, of Madison is in the lead for that position. He and A. R. Hall, of Dunn county, have been the most prominently mentioned for the place, but Mr. Hall has not officially announced his determination to try to secure it. An important point bearing upon the selection is in a report, said to be authoritative, in circulation around the Pfister hotel, to the effect that R. M. LaFollette, of Madison, is not in favor of Mr. Hall for the position. Mr. LaFollette is prominent in a movement being made in the party for pushing Congressman Haugen to the front for the United States senatorship in 1897, and it has been current belief that as Mr. Hall is one of the members of the legislature from Mr. Haugen's district, Mr. LaFollette would be a strong advocate of his election to the speakership. The apparently reliable announcement that such is not the case causes some shrewd republicans to suspect that a deal has been effected whereby a good deal of opposition, which might otherwise arise against Mr. Haugen, is to be brought to his support. In the absence of definite knowledge as to who Mr. LaFollette will support for speaker, leaves speculation on this subject in a state of uncertainty.

ALICE DIRECTOR'S MARK CHANGED

A Mistake Had Given the Janesville Mare Too Fast a Record.

H. D. McKinney and John C. Chadwick are attending the session of the Board of Appeals of the American Trotting Association, which is held in the Auditorium, Chicago. Mr. McKinney had a little business before them in the form of an application for a change of record of Alice Director. Alice was given a record of 2:18 at Milwaukee, July 20, 1893, as shown and recorded in the judges book. The facts presented showed by the affidavits of two of the timers and two of the judges that the time of said mare, Alice Director, in the race referred to was 2:19 and that it was a clerical error in recording the time in the judges' book at 2:18, and it was ordered that the record be changed to 2:19.

Clarke has received an appointment as instructor in the Dairy school of the State University at Madison, and begins his work there next month. This is a high compliment to Mr. Clarke, and an evidence of his ability in this line of work. Mrs. Belle Spaulding is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Austin at Lima. Miss Anna Tomkins, who teaches in Milwaukee, enjoyed a brief Thanksgiving vacation here, returning to the city Monday.

BAD MEN GET AWAY FROM JAIL CELLS

"TUT" WILLIAMS AND ED. BUTLER AT LARGE.

Latter Was One of the Seven Toughs Mixed Up in the Esther Ferrin Outrage in Beloit—Williams is the Prize Bad Man of Edgerton.

Two faces are missing from the breakfast table at the jail—two faces that the police are trying hard to get a glimpse of.

They are not faces most people would care to see.

One belongs to "Tut" Williams and Williams is just as tough a man as Edgerton people know anything about. Williams was sent down for ninety days and two months of his sentence remains to be served.

It looks as if that sentence would never be finished.

Mr. Williams has turned his back on jail fare, and without leave or license. With him there went Ed Butler, one of the Beloit toughs sent up for abusing Esther Ferrin. Butler pleaded guilty when brought into court at first, and for a long time denied his guilt, but finally owned up. Judge Phelps imposed a six months sentence of which four months remain to be served.

How Butler and Williams got away is a puzzle to the officers. They were allowed no privileges, Williams especially being considered a very hard case.

MANY HEARD EVANGELIST MERRILL

Big Audience at the Baptist Church Last Evening and Today.

The miracle of the widow's oil was the subject of Evangelist Merrill's discourse at the Baptist church last evening, and from that subject he drew a pointed lesson. The church was filled to overflowing and the gallery had to be thrown open in addition. Interest in the meetings is on the increase. This afternoon at 3 o'clock the regular afternoon service was held which will occur on every afternoon this week except Saturday. The subject of the sermon this afternoon was "How to Get Answer to Prayer." On Saturday evening there will be a special service for Sunday school workers. Sunday afternoon there will be a mass meeting for young people at 3 o'clock. On Monday evening the service will be for old soldiers. The meetings will continue to be held all of this week in the afternoon at 3 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30. Next Sunday evening a union service will be held at the Congregational church.

Next Tuesday evening is the date of the lecture on the People's Course. The meeting will begin at 7 o'clock and the lecture will not begin promptly on time.

A MAN OF NOTE.

One of Vermont's Foremost Citizens Speaks Out.

And His Powerful Words Have No Uncertain Sound.

He Regrets One Thing, Which You Need Not, if You Heed His Words.

Hon. R. D. Slayton has spoken out. From the most prominent man in Stowe, Vt., his powerful words are not only of great interest to all, but carry the greatest weight.

"I have been troubled," he stated "with nervousness, indigestion and sleeplessness for several years. My food distressed me terribly and caused much gas. If I overdid a little my stomach would throw up any food taken."

"Any sudden start would unstring my nerves and leave me fearfully unsettled. I had heard for some time of the virtues of that wonderful medicine Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and now determined to use it."

HON. R. D. SLAYTON.

"I can truly say that I was greatly benefited by the use of two bottles. I sleep well, my food digests all right, and my nerves are strong."

This is the kind of evidence you want, and the advice of just such a prominent man is what should decide you. Take this advice and use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It will make you well and strong.

This great medicine is the discovery and prescription of Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th Street, New York City, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. The doctor can be consulted free by all, personally or by letter.

REBUILDING COOKSVILLE'S MILL.

New Dam To Replace the One Destroyed—Other News Notes.

COOKSVILLE, Dec. 6.—P. E. Bullis, better known in Janesville as "Charley," is making quite extensive repairs to the mill and dam, fifty feet of the latter having been wasted away. When completed it will be a fine mill, as no pains will be spared. The mill consists of three run of stones, and is thirty by fifty feet. The addition on the store is progressing under the management of Charles Brook, of Stoughton. Mrs. Malina Seaver, who owns a house and lot here, is in town for a few days. She lives the most of the time with her daughter in Stoughton. Mrs. Charles Miller is entertaining a brother and sister from Columbus, Columbia county. Great preparations are being made for the district lodge of I. O. G. T. that convenes here December 12 and 13. Mrs. Stebbins is gradually recovering from her recent sickness.

A Bon a Fide Sale.

It has been intimated to us that some ladies do not believe that we are selling dry goods at cost. The idea seems to prevail among them that we will not do business for nothing. We would like to have all such call on us. If we can't prove to you beyond a shadow of a doubt that we are doing just as we advertise we will "acknowledge the coin" and quit advertising. Until January 1, we will sell everything at exact cost, and whatever loss there is we will bear.

Use It In Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the general enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

JOHN IS PATRIOTIC LIKE MELICAN MAN

CHINAMAN RETURNS TO FIGHT FOR HIS COUNTRY.

Woo Chung, of Madison, Passed Through Here Last Night, En Route For Chicago, San Francisco and the Land of His Nativty, Where He Will Join the Army.

Janesville people who were at the Chicago & Northwestern depot last night when the 6:25 train passed through, saw an intelligent looking Chinaman in one of the day coaches.

Woo Chung was his name and in his breast burned the fire of the same patriotism that inspired the American patriot who went to the front in '61. He was going back to China to fight for his country.

Woo Chung has been in business at Madison but yesterday he started for Chicago and from there he will go to San Francisco and thence back to China to take up arms in defending their country against Japan. This, he says, is in compliance with the request of the Chinese minister at Washington, though he does not understand this edict as being in any measure compulsory. Chinamen from all over the eastern part of the country will meet in Chicago tonight to discuss the matter and raise funds to send recruits home. It is expected that 2,500 Chinamen will leave San Francisco by the next steamer; 1,400 are said to have gone on the last steamer which left that port for China.

THE CZAR NICHOLAS IS VERY TIMID.

A NERVOUS SON OF THE HOUSE OF ROMANOFF.

All His Life Has Been Marked with Tragedies—His Marriage with the Princess Alix of Hesse to Unite Royal Families.

HE NAME OF Nicholas has always portended evil to the house of Romanoff; and it would seem as though its present owner had not escaped its sinister significance. From a child he has been delicate and pale; and the quiet little fellow, with his long, silky hair and large, wistful eyes, contrasted strikingly with the bulldog jaw and heavy features of his grim father. The events of his rather uneventful life have not been calculated to lift the gloom from his brow. His third year saw the explosion of a conspiracy that shook all Russia. His seventh saw two attempts upon the life of his grandfather. Upon his ninth birthday several of the courtiers who feted with him were ready to start for the seat of war which lost the Russians 9,000 lives. He was only a boy when his grandfather fell murdered before his own palace, and since that time many attempts have been made upon the life of his father, the czar, and upon the whole imperial household. The czarewitsch was born in 1868; he is emphatically pro-German in his tendencies. His marriage to the Princess Alix of Hesse will unite the reigning families of Russia and England.

Statistics of Women's Work.

A woman was complaining the other day of the difficulty of obtaining comprehensive statistics about women's work. There was, she said, no work of which she had been able to hear, after persistent inquiry, in which was condensed and tabulated information of all departments of work in which women are now engaged. That want will not long exist. Business woman's directories are being compiled in more than one city, and once they become common, statistics collated from them will be forthcoming in an easily referred-to shape. A Boston woman, publisher is about to issue a woman's business directory, and it has already brought to light some unusual occupations of the sex. Women harness makers, tailors, commission merchants, crockery, shoe and cutlery dealers, funeral directors, managers of milk routes—all these are recorded with printers, lawyers, electricians, sculptors and druggists besides.

Visited Jefferson Davis in Prison.

Rev. Dr. Charles Forderck Ernest Minnegerode, who died in Alexandria, Va., last Saturday, was one of the most prominent Episcopal divines in the south. "He enjoyed," says the Washington News, "the acquaintance and friendship of most of the distinguished men of the time. He was appointed to the chair of ancient languages at William and Mary college, and in 1848 entered the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church. After having charge of several parishes he was made rector of St. Paul's church in Richmond. He was filling this pastorate when the war broke out, and Jefferson Davis was a member of his church. It was during services at St. Paul's church that the president of the confederacy received the news of the fall of Richmond. When Mr. Davis was imprisoned at Fort Monroe, Dr. Minnegerode, by special permission of the secretary of war, was allowed to visit him fortnightly. He also enjoyed the friendship of Gen. Lee and many other men whose names are connected with the confederacy. Failing health caused him five years ago to resign the rectorship of St. Paul's, and he removed to Alexandria. Several weeks ago he was stricken with paralysis, and since then he has failed steadily."

A Blind Organist.

David Wood, the celebrated and blind organist of St. Stephen's church, Philadelphia, is as remarkable a man as he is a fine musician. Recently he completed his thirtieth year of service at that church, during which period he has seldom, if ever, been absent. He travels everywhere without an attendant, never going astray. In addition to his duties at St. Stephen's he is organist at another church on Sunday nights, is organ instructor at the Philadelphia Musical academy and gives private lessons to many pupils in and out of the city. He is regarded with high authority on organs and organ compositions and, despite his affliction, is a cheerful, affable man, who does not give any one the idea that life is a burden to him.

Putting It Pleasantly.

An English traveler once asked a Cavan laboring man how far it was to a place for which he was bound. "Two miles, your reverence," said the Englishman, knowing, by long experience, that Irishmen do not like to discourage a traveler by letting him know that he has still a long walk before him. "Well, your reverence," came the reply, "it's two miles strong and rich, so to spake."

Breakers Ahead!

Prudence, foresight, that might have saved many a good ship that has gone to pieces among the breakers, is a quality "conspicuous by its absence" among many classes of invalids, and among none more notably than persons troubled with inactivity of the kidneys and bladder. When these organs fall off in duty grievous trouble is to be apprehended. Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrh and stone in the bladder, are among the diseases which a disregard of early symptoms confirm and render fatal. That signally effective diuretic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will let no one so troubled forget this—remedy the symptoms of approaching renal disease and check its further progress. Equally efficacious is the Bitters for constipation, liver complaint, malarial and rheumatic trouble and debility.

HUNGARY'S ANNIVERSARY.

Great Preparations Being Made for a Millennial Celebration.

Hungarians are making preparations on a grand scale for a millennial exhibition, and the government addressed a prayer to the emperor that he might lend them all the historic relics in his possession which have any connection with Hungarian history. The emperor granted the request and a number of Hungarian historians and antiquarians have come to Vienna to study the imperial collection and make a list of the objects in question. They have selected a great number, which represent a value of 2,000,000 florins—if the value of unique historical relics can be expressed in figures. Among these objects are copies of the portraits in relief of King Mathias, Corvinus and Queen Beatrix, a bronze bust of Mary, queen of Hungary; bronze reliefs of Adrien Fries, illustrating the Hungarian wars; the remnants of the crown of King Andreas and the imperial globe, dating from the fourteenth century; the double cross that belonged to Lewis the Great, with relics of Christ's cross; a map of Hungary engraved in a metal plate, a nautilus-shaped cup, with arms of the Bathyanis. It is easy to imagine what efforts will be made in Hungary to prevent these objects from returning to Vienna when once they have been in the Hungarian capital; and if they are left there surely Prague would ask for all that referred to Bohemia in the imperial collections, and Cracow for all that referred to Poland.

A WONDERFUL BABY.

A Phenomenon That Surpasses the Power of Pedagogues and Medics.

A real infant phenomenon keeps all the medical men and pedagogues of the good old town of Brunswick, in Hanover, in a state of wonder and delight. The little son of a local butcher, a baby just 2 years old, can read with perfect ease anything written or printed in German or Latin characters. A few weeks ago three Brunswick doctors had the baby introduced to them at the house of one of the learned gentlemen. The first thing the little one did when brought into the consulting room was to stand on his toes at the table, reading out from the books that were lying about. All that could be ascertained as to the why and wherefore of this uncanny accomplishment is that, when the baby was 18 months old, and his grandmother took him out, he always immediately caught sight of the inscriptions over shops, and asked about them as only a small child can ask, until he had fathomed the meaning of the letters. It was the same at home; books and newspapers had greater fascinations than lollipops and toys, and whatever the parents playfully told him he remembered, with the result that at the age of 2 years he reads with perfect ease. Apart from his accomplishment in reading the boy's development is quite normal.

ON A CHURCH'S NAME $15,000 IS HUNG UP

CONSTRUCTION OF A BELOIT WILL IN QUESTION.

Mrs. Mary Boyle Left That Sum to "The Baptist Church of Beloit," But as the Church Is Not Known by Exactly That Name, the Heirs Contest.

UPON the name of a church $15,000 hangs in Judge Sale's court, and the judge is now listening to testimony and arguments on that somewhat ambiguous question. The matter is brought into court by the executor of the will of Mary A. Boyle of Beloit, for a construction of that document. Mrs. Boyle bequeathed the sum of $15,000 to the Baptist church of Beloit. The executor and minor heirs object, on the ground that there is no such body as "the Baptist church of Beloit," saying they cannot recognize the "First Baptist church society of Beloit," as the body intended to be remembered by the testator. S. J. Todd appears for the executor, Attorney Rood for the church and Attorney Buckley for the minor heirs.

THE Janesville friends of Mrs. Michael Rickert will be saddened to learn of her death, which occurred at her home in Milwaukee, recently. ## BOOMING THE CITY FREE OF EXPENSE

EASTERN FOLKS TOLD ABOUT JANESVILLE.

Luis Jackson, Industrial Commissioner of the St. Paul Road, in the City to Watch the Growth of the Brick Industry and Secure New Statistics.

Down east this good town stands high. Her resources have been widely advertised, her factories described her advantages set forth, and not a cent has it cost anybody in the city. Luis Jackson, industrial commissioner of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul road has done most of it. He dropped in today to get another batch of material.

Mr. Jackson and the Gazette worked together a couple of years ago to call the attention of brick makers to this city. The fact that clay as good as Milwaukee, or Menominee could furnish, was to be found here in ample quantities was announced in the Gazette and two thousand copies were circulated in the east by Mr. Jackson. He also had the articles reprinted in circular form and scattered broadcast.

"The Janesville brick industry now promises well" said Mr. Jackson today, "and I have just been talking with Mr. DeForest about running a side-track to the works. The main difficulty is the cut we would have to make. Of course nothing will be done at present. This is the dullest time that has been seen in the brick business for years and orders will be light until spring.

No "Bonus Sharks" Need Apply

"I have been talking with Mr. Valentine, the secretary of your Business Men's Association about two or three concerns that talk about locating here. My work is not alone the securing of new plants for towns along the St. Paul road. A very important part of it is heading off 'bonus sharks' and irresponsible adventurers of that class. I am constantly investigating the standing of men who write to me for propositions and fully one-half are rejected. One of the people that has been turned down several times is John W. Hamilton, who has been quite anxious to locate along the C. & St. P."

Mr. Jackson took away with him this afternoon material for another chapter on Janesville which will be published in a circular entitled "Seven Flourishing Cities" and given wide circulation in the east.

NOT A TIME FOR SIDE ISSUES

F. M. Marzluff Speaks Again Concerning the Water Works Suit.

EDITOR GAZETTE: In this morning's paper I notice the views of some gentlemen on the stand I take regarding the water suit. It was not my intention, when I gave my opinion on the subject to enter into any controversy. I simply made the suggestion, and I did not know that egotism was anywhere visible in the article. I did not know that the "Songs of All Nations" swindle had any application to the suit but it seems as if the writer of the article thinks the two cases resemble one another, and if that is so, I would again warn the city of Janesville to be careful. The writer of the article is a poor mind reader, when he says that he is fearful that I am over zealous for Messrs. Maxey & Jackson owing to the friendship that exists between them and myself. Now I want to say, that up to the time that I wrote the article, I had never met Mr. Maxey so I could not be such a warm friend of his, and as for Mr. Jackson, I must admit that I am a friend, but I see no reason why that should have any bearing on the case—in fact his whole article is unbusiness like, it doesn't get to the point. I believe if every man in Janesville understood the matter thoroughly, they would cry "halt" until we tried to settle this in a business way. I would also like it understood that as far as I am personally concerned I would insist on the water company complying in every particular with the franchise, and the man who wrote the article has no right to say I am not sincere. That kind of stuff certainly originates in a brain that would bear watching. I say again, that the city of Janesville should look to her interests in regard to the franchise, and by so doing she certainly has only one object in view, to save money for her citizens. I also claim that if by arbitration or any other honorable means, she can save the tax payers $5,000 or $10,000 or any part of it, she should do it. Now then, let me say again, there has been no practical attempt made to get together. Why not have Mr. Maxey come to Janesville and say just what he is willing to do for the city? If he is willing to do what is right, it is all we can expect. If he don't do what is right then compel him too. I cannot see anything wrong in making these suggestions and I hope that we shall confine ourselves strictly to business in this controversy. We cannot afford as citizens to be personal or offer any insult to each other for I take it that we are all interested in one common cause and that is that the city of Janesville should get everything she is entitled to under the franchise.

F. M. MARZLUFF, Janesville, Wis., Dec. 6, 1894.

DEATH LAY IN WAIT FOR TWO SKATERS

RIVER NARROWLY ROBBED OF PREY YESTERDAY.

Samuel Echlin and Frank Loudon Broke Through the Ice Near L. F. Knipp's Brewery at Four O'clock, But Were Rescued After Hard Work and a Thorough Wetting.

With death in the ice covered river two Janesville young men struggled yesterday afternoon.

They won the fight but they had nothing to spare.

Samuel Echlin and Frank Loudon were the two young men. They were skating on the river in the rear of the L. F. Knipp brewery about 4 o'clock when Loudon's companions saw him disappear from sight. Echlin rushed to his assistance and in an instant he too was floundering in the icy waters. Both clung to the edge of the ice and were finally rescued but not until they had gone through about as close a shave as the old gentleman with the scythe could give them. Both were wet from head to foot but today neither is suffering any ill effects from the ducking.

Six young people were saved from drowning at Monterey at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon their being Jessie Croft Allie Sanner, Mabel Church, John Conroy, James Grogan and John Lutz. All had a close call for death.

SOME WIDOWS WHO HAVE LOTS OF CASH.

Some of Them Are Millionaires and May Marry Again—Beautiful and Accomplished They Defy Cupid's
Darts.

OLD WELLER'S famous advice to Sam, "Beware of the vidders," is in no way heeded by those to whom the charms of women are the motive forces by which life is made chiefly joyous, for no women are more constantly supplied with worshipers at their fair shrines than are those once bound by matrimonial chains. Nor are any of womankind, even among the proverbially attractive debutantes, the cause of more wakeful nights nor deeper heartburnings.

And this is just as it should be—in very many cases at least. For there are, within easy mention, a score of lovely widows with not only beauty for their portion, but with accomplishments, fine presence, sympathetic hearts and riches as well.

The palm for all these things except extreme youth, must be given to Mrs. William Astor, who, though she has grandchildren, is not yet an aged woman by any means, and who has plenty of good looks, fine health and, of course, an abundance of money to recommend her.

It is said of Mrs. Astor that she cares not at all for the society of men, preferring to shine now by the graces of her daughters and, particularly, by the new society appearance of Mrs. Coleman Drayton, whom Mrs. Astor is "introducing" again after a long absence from her mother's home. But it is a fact that very many men admire Mrs. Astor greatly, and should she ever care to re-enter the field of matrimony, she would find suitors as many as she could count. Her wealth is very great—too great for estimate—probably the income is $300 or $400 per day. Her period of mourning is just past.

Another of the widows, well along in years though still very attractive, is Mrs. Hicks-Lord. This remarkable woman is in poor health now, no doubt from the many and varied scenes of her life. But those who visit her on Washington square in her palace home say she will recover and yet grace society at home and abroad as of yore.

Mrs. Hicks-Lord rejoices in the full name of Annette Wilhelmina Schenck Wilkens Hicks-Lord. She is twice a widow, having been married long ago to Mr. Hicks, who left her with an annual income of $50,000, which she increased to $150,000 upon the death of her second husband, Mr. Lord, who was over 80 years old when she married him.

Among the startling events of this great woman's career was her conversion to the Roman Catholic church, when she was baptised in Rome by Mgr. Capel; another was the way she entertained in Paris; and again the manner in which she excited international wonder by giving up her home abroad to the German empress when the latter wished to visit London. This unselfishness from a petted belle brought old Mr. Lord prostrate at her feet.

Mrs. Hicks-Lord's most famous jewel, in a collection of the finest private jewels in the world, is a stomacher which cost just a quarter of a million.

MRS. HICKS-LORD.

When she puts it on and holds court she is the most admired woman in the 400 of either Europe or America.

Quite different from these, and a widow only by law, yet bewitchingly beautiful, is Mrs. Burke-Roche, now shining in New York society. Mrs. Burke-Roche lives at her father's home, and has with her the two sons, twins, that bear a strong resemblance to their grandfather, Frank Work, millionaire.

Mrs. Burke-Roche had a marriage settlement which left her enormously wealthy, and the money is still hers.

It is understood, though never confidently stated, that the trouble with her husband rose from personal differences, and not from the extravagances of the latter. Anyway Mrs. Burke-Roche is at home no w, dressing more beautifully than ever, and handling the ribbons over finer horses than fall to the lot of any other woman in New York.

If this fair widow marries again the happy man will secure not only a great beauty, famed on both sides of the ocean, but a woman who speaks several languages and is an amateur actress of great power. Nothing but the express wish of her father keeps her from appearing on the stage at all charitable gatherings. Last winter at the theatricals given by Mrs. John Bloodgood and Mrs. Oliver Sumner Teall Mrs. Burke-Roche withdrew her promised support at the last minute—because her father so dislikes the notoriety of the stage. Here is certainly a matrimonial prize.

MISS ANNIE SEASHOLTZ.

A Pennsylvania Girl Who Will Bear
the Torch of Christianity.

Miss Annie Seasholtz, the subject of our sketch, is the daughter of Charles Seasholtz of Northumberland, Pa. Her father died when she was 7 years of age, and the mother with her three young children removed to the home of her parents in Paint township. In 1884 she came with her family to Northumberland. Annie was converted at the Baptist church in 1881. She was a pupil of the public schools and graduated at the high school in the "class of '89." About four years ago she first thought of devoting her life to mission work. In 1892 she entered Dr. Simpson's missionary training institute, attended two years and graduated as fully competent to become a worker in foreign missionary fields.

On Sunday evening, Sept. 26, a farewell missionary service was held in the Baptist church in honor of Miss Seasholtz. On Wednesday, Sept. 28, she bid farewell to home and friends and left for New York, where in company with a band of volunteers, she sailed for India. For two years she will be in Akola Berar, India, learning the Marats language.

Suspended on High.

An accident, which might have terminated fatally, happened to C. F. Wait, balloonist, at Capac, recently. In making an ascension, and a height of 1,000 to 1,500 feet, he seized the parachute for the descent, and in some way the small cord which held the parachute to the bar of the balloon (only a cord one eighth of an inch in diameter) became entangled around the bar of the balloon. He claims he untied the string before he attempted to drop. Any way, it resulted in the inverting of the parachute, leaving him suspended in the air with only the small cord to hold him. He remained quiet, not daring to make an effort to raise himself by the cord to get hold of the bar above him. After a little further ascent the balloon began to descend, landing him with considerable force, but not enough to hurt him seriously. He was afterward so completely prostrated from the shock that a physician was summoned.

Key's Tomb.

The grave of Francis Scott Key in Frederick, Md., is in a sadly neglected condition, and the movement begun by members of the Grand Army of the Republic in Troy, N. Y., to secure the placing of a fitting memorial over the resting place of the author of "The Star Spangled Banner" will undoubtedly meet with a hearty response in every part of the union.

A Woman Court-Crier.

Miss Elizabeth Fleming has been appointed crier of the United States Circuit and District courts at Portland. Miss Fleming was previously court stenographer.

Mrs. Moulton's Salon.

Mrs. Louise Chandler Moulton has a home at Weymouth street, Portland, and she is accredited with being one of the half dozen women in London able to create and hold a salon.

COL. FRED GRANT.

Looks Nothing Like His Distinguished
Father—Life in New York.

Of all of General U. S. Grant's sons, the one who has created the most interest is Colonel Frederick Grant, late United States minister to Austria. He is now a resident of New York, and he and his handsome wife, the sister of Mrs. Potter Palmer, can often be seen in society and at the theaters on first nights. The colonel is tall, broad shouldered, and is growing stout. He weighs over 200 pounds, but his large frame can take on a great deal of adipose tissue and not disfigure him. There is no resemblance to his father, except in solidity of build. He has high cheek bones, a large broad face, and a nose slightly aquiline. The great firmness of his father's mouth is wanting, but on the whole, his face could not be called weak. He wears a dark moustache of medium length and thickness, which effectually conceals his upper lip. In dress he is always neat, not loud, and somehow in looking at him one is convinced that he has a wife who has excellent taste in matters of dress. He looks phlegmatic and in repose his face has a sad cast. No one could picture him as a cavalier soldier or a gay, rollicking cadet, and in truth he never was. As a cadet he was somewhat studious and passed a creditable final examination. His walk is slow and deliberate, and no one to see him on the street would imagine that he was anything but a merchant who has had a fair share of success. He lives in good style up town and has plenty of leisure on his hands.

Bees as Postmen.

To talk of training bees as postmen sounds about as feasible as training cockroaches as engine drivers. Nevertheless the bee post is going to become an actual fact if everything goes well and the experiment of an English agriculturist turns out satisfactorily. The bee is taken away from home, a letter printed by microphotography is gummed to his little back and he is thrown into the air. Home he goes, like a carrier pigeon, and the chief advantage he enjoys over his big brother is that he cannot be seen in time of war, or, if seen, cannot very well be shot.

gives you a feeling of horror and dread. There is no longer necessity for its use in many diseases formerly regarded as incurable without cutting.

The Triumph of Conservative Surgery is well illustrated by the fact that RUPTURE or Breach, is now radically cured without the knife and without pain. Clumsy, chafing trusses can be thrown away! They never cure but often induce inflammation, strangulation and death.

The suit ordered from you and which was received in good time, is a marvel, considering price. ### Our Great Cost Sale Will Continue During December

Why will reasonable merchants do this thing during the assured busy season preceeding the holidays. The people would like to know. Our competitors explains it on Tariff lines explaining to you that the reason we are selling goods so cheap is due to the Wilson bill, (they do not deny that we are selling stuff cheap) and do not meet our prices but simply explain it as a result of the tariff. Another one throws out insinuating remarks about our goods and while he watches us hammer down the prices, he spends his spare moments throwing great handful of mud at us in the shape of "awful funny" little locals (you ought to read them, it would do us good.)

= And Now We Will Explain =

IT IS SIMPLY THIS:---We have promised the people of this community to sell dry goods cheaper than any other merchant, AND WE ARE GOING TO DO IT. We own about $60,000 worth of New Dry Goods bought within the past 90 days for cash.
